SCHOFIELD SOCIETY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Dec. 18.—On Monday evening, Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph Daly gave a very much enjoyed buffet supper in honor of Capt. Pelham Glassford's promotion. The house was beautifully decorated with many vases of deep red carnations, the flowers reflecting in color true artillery red.

After the supper, a delicious punch was served, in which Capt. Glassford was toasted. Col. Sturgis making a graceful speech of congratulation upon Capt. Glassford's promotion and his assignment to the First Field Artillery.

The guests were the officers and ladies of the First Field and a few friends from the other regiments, including: Capt. and Mrs. Pelham Glassford, Col. Samuel Sturgis, Col. John McMahon, the Misses Carrie and Esther McMahon, Maj. and Mrs. William Cruikshank, Maj. William Guinnard, Capt. and Mrs. Arthur Cassels, Capt. and Mrs. Frank Hopkins, Miss Gertrude Hopkins, Capt. and Mrs. Clarence Deems, Capt. and Mrs. Geo. Apple, Capt. and Mrs. Roger Mason, Capt. William Ennis, Capt. Harry Williams, Capt. and Mrs. William Browning, Lieut. and Mrs. Carroll Neal, Lieut. Louis McKinlay, Lieut. and Mrs. Ivens Jones, Lieut. and Mrs. Russell Maxwell, Lieut. Harold Huntley, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Marr, Lieut. and Mrs. Louie Beard, Lieut. and Mrs. Waldo Potter, Lieut. and Mrs. William Dods, Lieut. Percy Deshon, Miss Harriet Ellis, Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph Andrews, Miss Anne Carpenter, Lieut. Kenny Palmer, Lieut. Freeman Bowley, Lieut. Bernard Peyton, Miss Marion Smith, Lieut. Wallace Philoon, Capt. Clyde Crusan, Lieut. Ballard, Lieut. and Mrs. Kennon, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Naylor, and Mrs. Henry Lantry.

After supper the party attended the hop in the rooms of the Mounted Service Club.

Capt. and Mrs. Frank Hopkins and Miss Gertrude Hopkins gave a shower-tea in honor of Miss Harriet Ellis and Lieut. Percy Deshon on Monday afternoon. The guests presented the bride-to-be with a number of most useful kitchen articles, accompanied by original verses of comical character. The gifts were piled in a large clothes basket and as each article was unwrapped Lieut. Deshon or Miss Ellis read aloud the accompanying verses to the great amusement of the guests.

Accompanying a kitchen rack was the following:

Sing a song of Schofield, Percy's on the rack, He's found a mate to share his fate,
But he hasn't found a shack.
Sing a song of moonlight, Why should Percy care,
The lovers' way to build, they say, Great castles in the air.

With a percolator was this couplet:
Please accept this percolator, But don't ask me to demonstrate her.

Attached to a roasting pan was the following:
If the name were only Anne
'T would be a cinch to rhyme with pan.

But since her name is Harriet Ain't nothing to rhyme but suffergette;
But if that sounds something like a roast.

Why, a "roast" and a "pan" are twin thoughts—almost!
And with a frying pan:
By keeping the water in this pan hot,
You can use it for a coffee pot.

But when it comes to frying meat—Then it ain't never yet been beat.
In trying to your wants to cater, I thought of this small nutmeggrater;

And hope that you will often watch For chances to use it On Hot Scotch!

One which elicited a great deal of merriment was attached to a fern:
At writing poetry I'm a fright, There ain't no poem I can write.

But—
This fern
Is here.

Remember us by our good deeds and not by our sins, For we hereby present you a pan and some pins.

They don't go together, as everyone knows:

One is for muffins and the other for clothes.

They're not very pretty, but for shirts and for chow

We hope they'll be useful to Percy and Frau.

The guests were Col. Sturgis, Capt. and Mrs. Clarence Deems, Capt. and Mrs. George Apple, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Naylor, Maj. and Mrs. Cruikshank, Lieut. and Mrs. Carroll Neal, Capt. Harry Williams, Lieut. Bernard Peyton, Freeman Bowley, Ballard Lyerly, Kenny Palmer, Col. John McMahon, Misses Carrie and Esther McMahon, Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph Andrews, Capt. and Mrs. Roger Mason, Capt. and Mrs. John O'Shea, Miss Lou Brett, Miss Holcomb, Capt. and Mrs. William Chitt, Capt. and Mrs. James Parker, Capt. and Mrs. Larry McAfee, Mr. and Mrs. Kimball, Mr. Perry, and Capt. and Mrs. Pelham Glassford.

Friday, Mrs. John O'Shea entertained at luncheon in honor of Miss Harriet Ellis. Red and green, carried out in all the dainty appointments of flowers, cards and bon-bon baskets, formed the attractive color scheme of the four small tables at which the guests were seated. At Miss Ellis' place was a basket of red roses. The guests were the Misses Harriet Ellis, Hortense Short, Gertrude Hopkins, Norma Mason, Anne Carpenter, Louise Coleman, Dorothy Forsyth, Ruth Harrison, Carrie and Esther McMahon, Marion Smith, Welcome Ayer, Miss Fealy, Miss Cook, Mrs. Roger Mason and Miss Sue Holcomb.

A number of garrison people entertained for friends from the transport which was in port for three days. Lieut. and Mrs. Ivens Jones had as guests Lieut. and Mrs. George Gordon Bartlett, Lieut. Millard Harmon, Col. and Mrs. Charles Gandy were visitors in the post for a few hours, and Lieut. and Mrs. Kennon entertained at luncheon in honor of Gen. and Mrs. Hunter Liggett on Monday. The guests were Gen. and Mrs. Liggett, Col. and Mrs. Carl Reichmann, Capt. and Mrs. George Apple, Mrs. Watson, Capt. and Mrs. Campbell King, and Capt. Marshall Childs.

Plans are afoot for the regimental hop to be given by the First Field Artillery, which is to take place on Christmas night, in the Mounted Service Club. On New Year's Eve the large post hop is to be given, from which the Hop Committee is making plans and elaborate preparations, and hope to make it even more of a success than the Thanksgiving hop.

In accordance with an established army custom, each of the regiments stationed at Schofield will have a Christmas tree for all the children of the regiment, and the gatherings will take place on Christmas eve, in the different halls, with the usual accompaniment of Christmas songs and carols sung by the children.

Capt. and Mrs. George Apple were dinner hosts on Thursday evening, entertaining for Maj. and Mrs. Charles Tayman, Capt. and Mrs. Chalmers Hall, Capt. and Mrs. William Brown, Lieut. and Mrs. William Dods, Lieut. and Mrs. Wallace Philoon, Lieut. and Mrs. Ballard, Lieut. and Mrs. Kennon, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold Naylor, and Mrs. Henry Lantry.

Capt. and Mrs. Brady Ruttenutter have had as their guests for the last few days Mr. and Mrs. Harberzelle of Parkersburg, W. Va., who are making a trip through the Hawaiian Islands.

Lieut. Edgar M. Whiting, previously of the 10th Cavalry, has arrived for station at Schofield on his assignment to the 4th, and has taken quarters in the artillery-cavalry cantonment.

On Tuesday, Lieut. and Mrs. Louie Beard gave a charming dinner for Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph Daly, Lieut. and Mrs. Russell Maxwell, Lieut. and Mrs. Ivens Jones.

FT. SHAFTER SOCIETY

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
FORT SHAFTER, Dec. 19.—Mrs. J. Buchanan De Ford of Ottawa, Kans., arrived in the islands by the Sierra for an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Ernest V. Smith of the 2nd Infantry at this post.

Mrs. M. J. Lenihan's tea in honor of Mrs. J. Buchanan De Ford was a most attractive function. Given on Friday afternoon from four to five it possessed the novelty of being the regular Friday afternoon concert by the 2nd Infantry band as a musical background for the delightful hospitality with which the guest of honor and some thirty additional ladies were received by the hostess. In the dining room the tea table, in white and green with a handsome basket of marguerites for the center and green tulle candles, was an attractive sight. Mrs.

Ernest V. Smith, Mrs. B. Walker Atkinson and Mrs. Chas. S. Lincoln assisted Mrs. Lenihan and the Misses Lenihan at the tea service. Following the refreshments the guests assembled on the lawn of the officers' quarters to witness the parade of the regiment as a finale to a delightful afternoon. Among the guests of the afternoon were Mrs. J. B. De Ford, Mrs. R. M. Cutts, Mrs. Odio Rosenbaum, Mrs. E. H. Cooke, Miss Gamble, Mrs. E. V. Smith, Mrs. W. H. Johnson, Mrs. B. W. Atkinson, Mrs. Randolph, Mrs. C. S. Lincoln, Mrs. J. E. Bell, Mrs. C. B. Parker, Mrs. G. S. Gibbs, Mrs. Gamble, Mrs. Hoody, Mrs. E. K.
Massee, Mrs. J. B. McDonald, Mrs. A.
C. Knowles and Miss Halloran.

Ladies' night at the 2nd Infantry mess was held on Monday of the past week with Mrs. Laurence O. Mathews and Mrs. Ira Longenecker as hostesses and in charge. Auction was the diversion in accordance with the established custom and the seven tables in play contested with all vim for the handsome serving tray of Japanese stencil that had been provided by the managers for the high score. Mrs.
Charles S. Lincoln, whose skill at the game is well known, proved her playing ability by accumulating the high score and carried off the trophy.

Lieut. Laurence O. Mathews of the 2nd Infantry is on the sick report and confined to his quarters with a severe wound in the right foot. Lieut. Mathews received his injury while engaged in directing some work of men on the football field and while using a pick ax a misdirected stroke penetrated his shoe and struck deep into his foot. He will be off duty for some days as the result of the injury.

Capt. and Mrs. Frank D. Ely, enroute to the Philippine Islands by the Logan, were guests of Capt. George H. Jamerson during a portion of their stay in Honolulu. Capt. Ely has recently been assigned to the 13th Infantry with station at Port Wm. Mc-Kinley, Luzon, and is well known to the 2nd Infantry of older days, having served as a lieutenant on its rolls for some years.

Lieut. and Mrs. J. W. McAndrew have been entertaining Lieut. and Mrs.
J. B. Richardson, the new arrivals, pending the settling of the latter's quarters in the cantonment. Lieut. and Mrs. F. F. Black have performed a similar hospitality for Lieut. Frank A. Sloan for the past few days.

Lieut. and Mrs. Gerald C. Brant of the 7th Cavalry were the guests of Lieut. and Mrs. Homer N. Preston during the stay of the transport in Honolulu. The Brants are en route to Manila for station. Another transport visitor in the garrison was Dr. Kerwin W. Khard, who was accompanied by Capt. Samuel C. Creighton, and the two were guests of Maj. and Mrs. M.
J. Lenihan for dinner on Sunday last.

The news has been received at the post through private sources that Capt. Birch O. Mahaffey of the Ordinance Department has tendered his resignation as an officer of the army and will therefore not return to Honolulu. Capt. Mahaffey has been stationed for some months at headquarters of the department as ordnance officer and both he and Mrs. Mahaffey are well known in service circles and deservedly popular. The officer left Honolulu some six weeks ago on an extended leave that has not yet expired. His determination to leave the army is not one suddenly made as it is known that during the visit of Mrs.
Mahaffey's father to Honolulu shortly after the arrival of Capt. Mahaffey the matter was under serious consideration and that Capt. Mahaffey at that time was quite persuaded to leave the service for the more lucrative pursuit of banking and railroad business in which Mr. McBride is heavily interested in St. Louis.

Lieut. and Mrs. J. B. Richardson have been welcome additions to the garrison of recent date and are being received with open arms by the 2nd Infantry. The Richardsons come to their new regiment by transfer from the 21st and bring with them delightful reputations as to their charm and interest in social life. Another addition to the commissioned list of the regiment is Lieut. Frank A. Sloan, who also arrived by the Logan and is now domiciled in cantonment quarters.

Mrs. Sloan did not accompany her husband but will join the Fort Shafter garrison some time after the 1st of February. The Sloans formerly served in the 11th Infantry and Mrs.
Sloan was one of the most popular young matrons in that agreeable circle.

Naturally great interest is centered in the post in preparations for Christmas. Chaplain William R. Scott of the 2nd Infantry, with the financial and other necessary assistance of the officers and ladies of the garrison, has made arrangements whereby every child and every enlisted man at Fort Shafter will be made cognizant of the holiday and in a happy way, while the sewing club that has claimed one afternoon of each of the many weeks past has undertaken the pleasant duty of looking out for the men that are sick in the department hospital. In this the club has had the hearty cooperation of Col. Reynolds, the commanding officer of the hospital. The club will make a gift to the hospital as an institution of a quantity of tray covers for the trays for meals for the sick and thus aid in rendering the meals for patients to be of more attractive appearance. In addition the ladies will provide a quantity of cut flowers for Christmas Day for the hospital and each man confined to his bed will have flowers for himself with his dinner if he be able to partake of that meal. Otherwise the bouquets will be placed at his bedside. In this way each and every man will be made to know that though away from friends of other days he has not been overlooked by those who are associated with him in the service. All of the companies will have special menus for the day and these include in every instance a sufficient amount of roast turkey furnished by the subsistence department to make the men feel that the day is indeed one to be remembered. The post exchange will contribute heavily to Chaplain Scott's expense account for reminders for the men and the exchange will provide in addition a free moving picture show for Christmas night.

Lieut. Nicholas W. Campanole is entertaining a large dinner party at the weekly dinner dance of the University Club in Honolulu this evening. Covers for ten people have been laid and afterwards the party will take part in the dancing provided for the club members and guests.

Capt. D. W. Chamberlin was host for a delightful evening at the Moana hotel on Tuesday on the occasion of the daisant arranged by the hotel management. Capt. Chamberlin's guests at dinner and for the subsequent entertainment were Mrs. J. Buchanan De Ford and Maj. and Mrs.
Ernest V. Smith.

The Fort Shafter Bridge Club met for its session of the past week with Capt. and Mrs. C. S. Lincoln at their quarters on Thursday evening.
